HAMMER!: Making Movies Out Of Sex And Life

Synopsis

HAMMER! is the first book by influential filmmaker Barbara Hammer, whose life and work have inspired a generation of queer, feminist, and avant-garde artists and filmmakers. The wild days of non-monogamy in the 1970s, the development of a queer aesthetic in the 1980s, the fight for visibility during the culture wars of the 1990s, and her search for meaning as she contemplates mortality in the 2000s; HAMMER! includes texts from these periods, new writings, and fully contextualized film stills to create a memoir as innovative and disarming as her work has always been. HAMMER! was the winner for the 2010 Judy Grahn Award for Lesbian Nonfiction.

An extraordinary autobiography! Decade by decade of a productive and mind blowing life. Such honesty and refreshing philosophy. An out and proud reinvented radical dyke bringing lesbian sex and life into a mind altering realm. Unprecedented and interactive. A treasure for eyes, body, mind and spirit.

I went to hear Barbara Hammer read from HAMMER!: Making Movies Out of Sex and Life at the KGB bar last night, and I've been buzzing with inspiration ever since. I was surprised by my own crying when she read, but I was so overwhelmed by the power of hearing what felt like my own thoughts and feelings out loud. As a woman artist/filmmaker, she gave me permission for my ambition, for wanting to do what I do without "choosing." And while I wish I didn't need permission, that I was strong and brave all the time, It is true I still crave and look for "founding mothers for the visual image maker" as she says in the book. I feel lucky that she wrote this book, that she lives her life and makes her films so full of warmth and openness and generosity. The second dedication of the book is to women artists everywhere, and the book truly is the most valuable gift to a young artist. I recommend it wholly, as I continue to run off of this feeling of being so hopeful and proud. Thank you Barbara.
